

HOMEWORK PROBLEM

Hi my name is Lisa I never use to do my homework. This story tells how I started doing my homework.

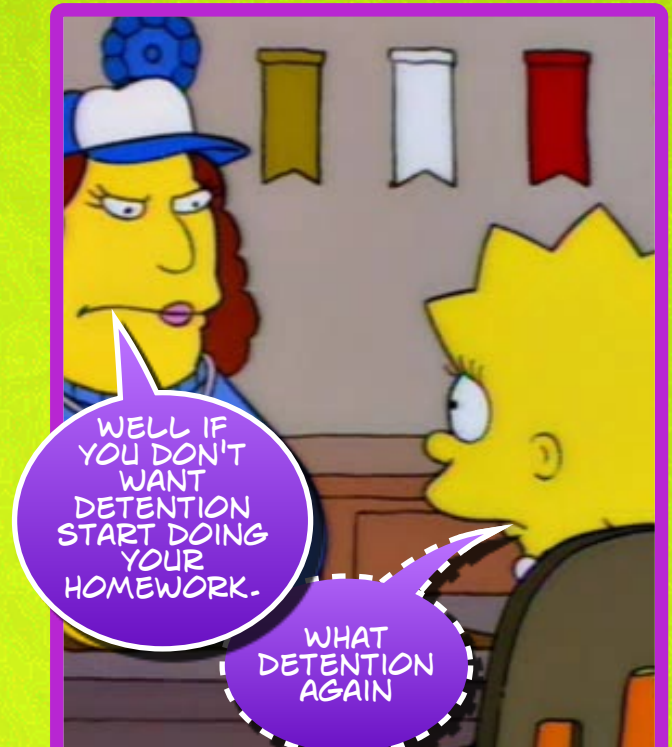

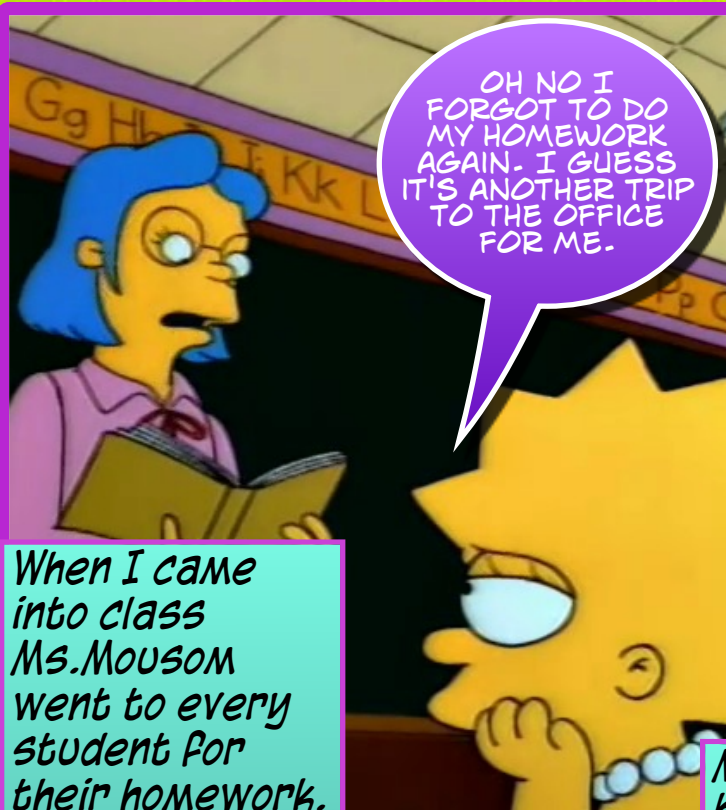

I wore my clothes and got on the bus. When my stop came I got off the bus and ran to school before the bell rang, but I turned out to be early. So I went to my friends to go talk to them.

I went to my friends Mikis and Naomi. By that time the bell rang and we had to go in to class.

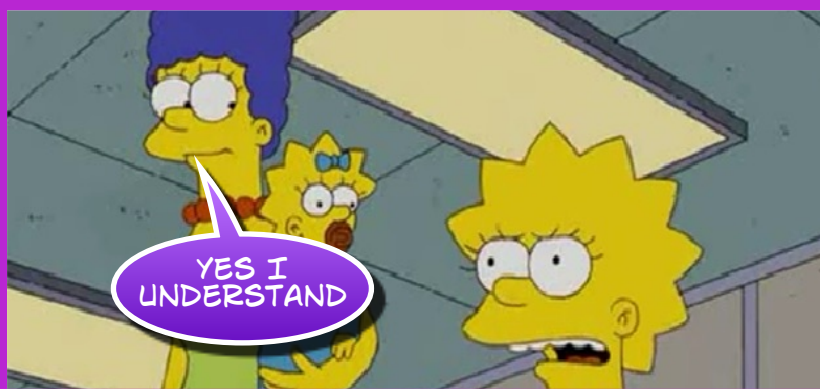

While I was at detention I thought about how Ms.Drinkwater said that she would call my parents the next time I don't do my homework.

When Lisa came back from school.

2 Months later!

YES I UNDERSTAND

For the past two months I had detention and my mom got called to the office because I didn't do my homework. WHATS THE BIG DEAL IF I don't do my homework ? I am to busy hanging out with my friends Mikis and Naomi I have no idea how they finish their homework.

After I came home from another detention I started playing video games. While I was playing video games I slowly started falling asleep.

The next morning I went to school and remembered I had another detention again. While I was at detention the principle came in and called me to her office, I wondered what homework she was gonna talk to me about this time.

When I sat down Ms. Drink water said there's something important she needs to tell me "theres a problem with you not doing your homework because if you don't start doing your homework it would effect your future, that mean you would not be able to do your dream job such as becoming a singer, you could also get separated from your family. I hope you understand what I am trying to say lisa."

After school

After I came home from school I kept on thinking about what the principle told me. After thinking for 2 hours I new what I had to do.

I opened my laptop and started doing the homework that hadn't finished, by the time I finished all my homework it was 2:00am, so I went to bed.

I'VE GOT TO FINISH ALL THE HOMEWORK

When my mom woke me up for school I got dressed ate my breakfast and went to school with all my homework finished.

AT SCHOOL...

When class started the teacher stated calling out names of people to hand in their homework.

FEW WEEKS LATER

Few weeks past and I started to get better grades and got to sing with my friend at the talent show also more people started being my friend once I stopped having detentions, we all even had a slumber party and it was a lot of fun. In these few weeks I also learned doing your homework on time is better because the better grades you get the better your future .

The End
